

Farmers plan relay protest in front of Parliament against farm reform laws

BUREAU

Delhi, July 5

Samyukt Kisan Morcha, the umbrella forum of protesting farmers' outfits, has prepared detailed plans for a protest in front of Parliament on July 22 demanding withdrawal of the three farm reform laws. The SKM said the leaders of BJP and allied parties would understand the root cause of farmers' anger, instead of coming up with excuses about its expression. The SKM has also given a call for a nationwide protest on July 8 against the increase in fuel prices.

As the monsoon session starts on July 19, the farmers' organisation has decided that, "Starting from July 22, every day, five protesters from each organisation associated with SKM will protest outside the Parliament. We will also write to Opposition parties to highlight their demands," it said in a statement. "We want the Opposition to ensure that the farmers' agitation and its demands become the main issue and that the government is brought under pressure to fulfill our demands. We do not want the Opposition to create ruckus or just walk out from the proceedings, but engage constructively inside the Parliament, while farmers protest outside," it added. On July 8, the SKM will raise demands such as "halving prices of diesel, petrol and cooking gas", along with "repeal farm laws" and "enact a MSP guarantee law for all commodities," they said in the statement.
